Intent	Implementation	Impact
At Our Lady's, the intention for the teaching of RE is for our pupils to live their lives according to Gospel values and to be supported and inspired to be spiritual and moral individuals who are capable of making positive life choices. We also aspire for all children to reach their potential through developing a lifelong love of learning including a familiarity and curiosity about the Bible and the many stories which underpin our values and beliefs. Some of the barriers we face with the teaching of RE at our school is that over 50% of our children are non-Catholic. These are in addition to the general barriers faced across the curriculum including early language and fine	Throughout the RE curriculum we implement a number of pedagogies to fulfil our aims and overcome the barriers we face. These include: modelling, questioning, reviewing and scaffolding. Both the RE and PSHE curricula promote the moral conscience of our pupils, allowing them to be respectful and conscientious individuals by living their lives according to the values of the Gospels. In order to deliver this intent, we ensure pupils experience RE through a range of interactive resources, enabling them to develop their spiritual and theological perspective.	The impact of this will be monitored and evaluated through: • analysis of progress and attainment data • the voice of pupils and parents • teacher assessment procedures • regular monitoring of teaching and learning through books, learning walks and outcomes.

motor skills development, low aspirations, high mobility, limited capacity to support at home as well as social and emotional behaviours not being conducive to collaborative learning.
